

Women's Clubs Not Losing Grip, Says Miss Hay

Movement Just Coming Into Its Own, Speaker Tells State Convention Delegates at the Commodore

Reports Cover Wide Range

Mrs. Luella R. North, Candidate for Judgeship, Talks on Juvenile Crime

The woman's club movement is just coming into its own, Miss Mary Garrett Hay told the delegates to the convention of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs meeting yesterday at the Hotel Commodore. As one of the former presidents of the organization, Miss Hay warned the women that they must not permit those ignorant of club work to say that the clubs were dying out with the advent of women into political life.

"I was told just a short time ago," she said, "that the clubs had outlived their usefulness and would soon be extinct. This is not true. We are not losing our grip, but are doing better work than ever before. The clubs teach women tolerance of one another, and through them women of different beliefs and of a different outlook on life learned to study both sides of a question and to work together in spite of their differences."

"This mutual tolerance and this ability for co-operation are a valuable foundation on which the clubs of today should build for better public service. The clubs of to-morrow will be capable of even greater things."

Specimens of Club Work
Specimens of the work of the clubs of today were revealed in the reports of the nine district chairmen. Everything from adopting French orphans and selling poppies for the wounded soldiers to influencing the course of legislation at Albany was recorded to the club women's credit. The federation takes no partisan stand on political matters, but both Republican and Democratic clubs are included in its membership.

The delegate most in the public eye this fall is Mrs. Luella R. North, who is the Republican candidate for the newly created position of judge of the Juvenile Court in Clinton County. Mrs. North talked yesterday of her theories of juvenile crime and the necessity of work among minors in order to counteract criminal tendencies which develop in later life.

"I was connected with prison work throughout the course of the Thaw case," she said, "and I came to realize that all that sorrow and all that public money might have been saved had Thaw had the treatment of an expert in his youth. A child who displays abnormal tendencies need not be arrested, according to the new law, but he can be brought to the attention of the Juvenile Court authorities, who will study his case and suggest remedies to his parents."

There was a stir last evening when rumor spread through the corridor that there was a "laid-out lady" among the delegates. The proved to be Mrs. Robert MacIntyre, president of the Woman's Club of Peekskill, who displayed on her right arm a large tattooed Masonic emblem.

"My husband did it," she said. "He is the handiest dentist on the east bank of the Hudson."

One woman, seeing the black crescent, rushed up to Mrs. MacIntyre and asked her if she wore a Turkish headscarf. The Peekskill dentist's wife explained that the emblem was a scimitar with lion's claws and star below, and that it was Masonic and not Turkish.

"I have worn it for twenty years," she said, "and never think of it except when some one questions me about it."

Edwin W. Fiske, Mayor of Mount Vernon, in welcoming the delegates, declared that the old-fashioned woman no longer existed and that he was glad this was so. Modern conditions required that woman be fitted to cope with conditions outside the home, and the women were so successful in this, he added, that in Mount Vernon the clubwomen were smarter than the men.

Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, represented Mayor Hylan in

She'll Head Women's Clubs

Mrs. John B. Booth, vice-president of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, who is unopposed as the candidate for the presidency.

welcoming the convention. Augustus Thomas addressed the women at a luncheon of the drama committee, telling them that music made an "emotional omelette" for its hearers, but that the drama provided a natural outlet for the emotional tendencies of the audience and was therefore destined to lead the arts.

The evening session was devoted to the fine arts, with speeches by Miss Anna Maxwell Jones, Royal Cortissoz, Mrs. Eugene J. Grant, Mrs. Henry Hadley, Robert C. Lafferty, Miss Louise Driscoll, Mrs. Francis H. Lamont, Alfred W. Martin, and readings of original poems by Margaret Widmer, Leonora Steyer and Arthur Guiterman.

Mr. Cortissoz, in addressing the convention, made an appeal for the cooperation of club members in supporting good art and attacking poor.

"It is the duty," he said, "of women in clubs who exercise a great influence in the community to make those people anxious to take up with new fads in art, prove that these fads really are art."

"These people are anxious to climb into the band wagon and they assert this mudslinging is art, but you must make them prove it. I have never found that these modernist pictures, with their crude, ugly colors, incompetent drawing and no background, were really beautiful. I ask you to insist upon the importance of playing the game in art according to the rules laid down by the great masters."

"These modernists make a great point of being young, enthusiastic, ambitious and independent. This is not relevant any more than their being kind to their mothers, unless competent art accompanies their ambition and independence."

"If a man cannot draw he is not an artist, even if he is good to his mother."

There was a stir last evening when rumor spread through the corridor that there was a "laid-out lady" among the delegates. The proved to be Mrs. Robert MacIntyre, president of the Woman's Club of Peekskill, who displayed on her right arm a large tattooed Masonic emblem.

"My husband did it," she said. "He is the handiest dentist on the east bank of the Hudson."

One woman, seeing the black crescent, rushed up to Mrs. MacIntyre and asked her if she wore a Turkish headscarf. The Peekskill dentist's wife explained that the emblem was a scimitar with lion's claws and star below, and that it was Masonic and not Turkish.

"I have worn it for twenty years," she said, "and never think of it except when some one questions me about it."

Edwin W. Fiske, Mayor of Mount Vernon, in welcoming the delegates, declared that the old-fashioned woman no longer existed and that he was glad this was so. Modern conditions required that woman be fitted to cope with conditions outside the home, and the women were so successful in this, he added, that in Mount Vernon the clubwomen were smarter than the men.

Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, represented Mayor Hylan in

Oxford Debaters Win on 'U.S. Should Join League'

English Team at Princeton Upholding Affirmative, Gets Vote of 331 to 103

Special Debate to the Tribune
PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 10.—The League of Nations emerged triumphant from the debate to-night between Oxford and Princeton universities on the subject: "Resolved, That the United States Should at Once Enter the League of Nations." The English debating team upheld the affirmative side of the discussion and was awarded the decision by a vote from the audience of 331 to 103.

President Hibben of Princeton presided. One of the Englishmen, K. M. Lindsay, was taken ill in Boston last week, and was unable to be present. His fellow debaters, Edward Marjoribanks and M. C. Hollins, had as their opponents Galle Johnston, of St. Louis; Albert Avidan, of Newark; and Donald A. Stauffer, of Denver.

Marjoribanks said that "The American people have made the league an object of ridicule." He outlined three reasons why this country should enter the league. First, the prevention of war; second, the economic advantage to be derived from America's participation; and, third, the moral and intellectual benefits of our entrance.

Johnston, the first speaker for the negative, said that the chief reason the United States should not enter the league is because it would be contrary to our traditional policy not to interfere with the affairs of Europe.

Ruston Bars Hirschfeld Emissary From His Office

Kings County District Attorney Still Refuses Investigation by Accounts Commissioner

Commissioner of Accounts David Hirschfeld sent an emissary yesterday to the office of District Attorney Ruston of Kings County with instructions to continue the investigation of Ruston's office which Hirschfeld began some time ago. The two authorities have been at loggerheads for some time over various market matters.

Mr. Hirschfeld's investigator did not get into Mr. Ruston's office. He introduced himself as Mr. Schneiderman, representing the Commissioner of Accounts, and was told that the order which Mr. Ruston gave out last Saturday still stood, that no representative of Hirschfeld was to be permitted access to Mr. Ruston's papers.

Mr. Ruston's announcement was that he would permit no further interference with his affairs by Mr. Hirschfeld except by subpoena for a public hearing.

U. S. Sugar Exports

The world is increasing its dependence upon the United States for refined sugar. "Our exports of refined sugar in the current calendar year," says "The Trade Record" of the National City Bank of New York, "will far exceed those of any earlier year in the history of our refining and export trade. In fact, the total quantity of refined sugar in the seven months of the current year for which we have now a record is greater than in any full year preceding and is thirty times as much as in the year preceding the opening of the war."

Washington, Oct. 10.—The problem whether Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Georgia, lately appointed to the Senate to succeed Senator Tom Watson, is a Senator in fact before taking the oath of office in the presence of the Senate has been practically settled by Senator Curtis, chairman of the rules committee.

Senator Curtis has given Mrs. Felton a secretary and has announced that she will be entitled to an office, the ranking privilege and the perquisites and pay of a Senator. This will be the case even if she does not come to Washington and occupy her office in the Senate office building, which she may do in the recess of Congress.

Mrs. Felton will occupy the office which was occupied by the late Senator Watson. Miss Sarah Orr, who was secretary to Senator Watson, has been named as Mrs. Felton's secretary. Senator Harris, of Georgia, to-day notified Mrs. Felton that she had been assigned an office and a secretary.

Some question had been raised as to whether Mrs. Felton was entitled to the prerogatives of a Senator before taking the oath.

Senator Harris will introduce a bill when Congress meets to pay Mrs. Watson, widow of the late Senator, a year's salary, or $7,500.

Senator Harris also will offer a measure to pay the funeral expenses of Senator Watson, including the private car furnished by Mrs. Alice Louise Lytle, editor of Watson's paper.

Mrs. Lytle paid for a private car at her own expense, refusing to permit the body to be carried in a baggage car. Senator Harris to-day had a long talk with Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms McGrain, and sought to get him to pay the expenses of the funeral as usual. McGrain adhered to his original position and would not pay for the private car.

Henry Wollman Is Made Chairman of Mills Campaign

Representative Opens Headquarters in Building Occupied by County Committee on 40th Street

Representative Ogden L. Mills announced last night that Henry Wollman has been appointed chairman of the Mills campaign committee, with headquarters at 105 West Fortieth Street. This is in the same building as the Republican County Committee. The other members of the committee are Mrs. John T. Pratt, associate chairman and manager; Stanley M. Isaacs, vice-chairman; Mrs. Courtlandt Nicoll, secretary, and A. Perry Osborn, treasurer.

Mr. Mills' re-election is of the greatest importance to the entire City of New York," said Mr. Wollman. "When Mr. Mills had served in Congress less than a year a vacancy occurred in the Ways and Means Committee, the most important committee of the House, and the Committee on Committees of the House by a unanimous vote elected him to membership. In view of the House's traditional policy in respect to seniority this was a notable honor. It has only been awarded to one other man in his first term in the last sixty years. If Mr. Mills should by any chance be defeated New York City will lose its representation on the committee charged with the duty of framing all revenue measures."

On Mr. Mills' campaign committee are Mrs. John Adler, Mrs. John M. Adler, Morris Ambos, Miss Margaret M. Attridge, Otto T. Bannard, Mrs. Gordon Knox Bell, Samuel A. Berger, Charles L. Bernheimer, Albert J. Berwin, Herman W. Beyer, Mrs. Linzee Blagden, William Bondy, Mr.

Chester Burden, Miss Sarah Butler, William Cain, Louis H. Cardani, William Chivers, Miss Mabel Choate, Mrs. Elliot Cross, Henry H. Curran, R. Fulton Cutting, Mrs. William Curtis Demorest, Mrs. J. Lloyd Derby, Miss Mary Devlin, John V. Donahue, Nathaniel A. Eisberg, Mrs. Charlotte Farrar, Clarence H. Fay, Colonel Michael Friedman, William H. Futrell, Mrs. Olive Stott Gabriel, Peter H. Gaffney.

Mrs. George L. Gehung, George L. Gehung, Frank J. Biblin, Mrs. Mary Grout, Mrs. Katherine T. Hammer, Charles E. Heydt, Samuel H. Hofstadter, William H. Hoppin, Mrs. Hattie Irving, Mrs. Stanley M. Isaacs, Mrs. John H. Iselin, Miss Lillian Kenny, Dr. Alexander Lambert, Edgar J. Lauer, Adolph Lewison, Anthony P. Ludden, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Ludden, Walter S. Mack Jr., Miss Fanny Markel, Louis Marshall, Schuyler M. Meyer, Mrs. Effie Miller, Edward Montgomery, Mrs. Claudia Q. Murphy, Courtlandt Nicoll, John W. Noble, J. Van Vechten Olcott, Mrs. Agnes Onfray, Mrs. James Russell Parsons, Mrs. Pleasant Pennington, Major R. Poole, Mrs. Robert Dunbar Pruyn, Mrs. Ogden Reid, Miss Nellie Y. Reynolds, Miss Natalie Robert, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Henry Samstag, Mrs. Russell E. Sard, Herbert L. Satterlee.

L. Lincoln Seide, Mrs. L. Lincoln Seide, Mrs. Samson Selig, Mrs. Samson Selig, Miss Laura Skinner, George A. Smallwood, Edward C. Spafford, Joseph Steinberg, Mrs. Grace P. Stewart, Henry L. Stimson, Mrs. Francis R. Stoddard Jr., Francis R. Stoddard Jr., Louis W. Stotesbury, Oscar W. Straus, Louis Stroll, Benjamin Swartz, Miss Helen M. Tracy, Edward J. Tschinbke, August Verity, Felix M. Warburg, Franklin B. Ware, Miss Mary Hoyt Wiborg, George W. Wickersham, Bronson Winthrop, Peter Zucker, Mrs. Peter Zucker.

have nothing to learn from the instructions given broadcast this week for preventing undesired fire. Even if they had not for 21 years contrived to forestall flames in their wooden in order to save their cancerous poor from a violent death, they are perfectly aware that a fireproof hospice is their best resort, and they beg for it, being the mendicant Sister-nurses of destitute, non-paying sick. For this non-sectarian and entirely free fireproof hospice $200,000.00 is needed, the building to be begun in early Spring. $22,000.00 is already in the Bank.

Rosary Hill Home, at Hawthorne, N. Y.

Mother M. Alphonsa Lathrop, O. S. D., Treas.

Rosary Hill Home, Hawthorne, Westchester Co., N. Y.

Registration 30,000 Under Last Year In First Two Days

Yesterdays registration, like Monday's, showed a falling off compared with last year's. The total yesterday in the entire city was 131,676, compared with 138,084. The total for the two days was 270,780, which is nearly 30,000 less than 1921, when 300,292 voters qualified.

Many politicians declared that the inclement weather was responsible for the smaller registration, and to the new literacy test others ascribed a portion of the falling off.

At some of the polling places the certificates of literacy issued by principals of public schools in accordance with the new law were not accepted by the election inspectors, who insisted on examinations of their own.

At Public School No. 25 the registration booth of the Tenth Election District of the Eleventh Assembly District, in Fifth Street, between First and Second Avenues, the inspectors rejected all certificates, demanding that the holders take examinations before them. The same procedure was carried out in other election districts in this Assembly district.

The registration yesterday by boroughs was Manhattan, 51,540; the Bronx, 17,474; Brooklyn, 48,894; Queens, 11,417; Richmond, 3,090. For the two days the totals by boroughs were Manhattan, 105,724; the Bronx, 37,193; Brooklyn, 97,658; Queens, 24,057; Richmond, 6,148.

150 Fall Hats, $15.00 and $25.00 Values to $50.00

The Tappé Guarantee of Satisfaction Covers Every Article

W. & J. SLOANE

FIFTH AVENUE AND FORTY-SEVENTH STREET NEW YORK CITY

A Sale of Exceptional Magnitude

such as is Now Being Conducted

Offers opportunities heretofore unequalled in scope, variety, merit of merchandise and price advantage. It includes every article of which we have in our collection, all conveniently displayed on four large floors of our establishment.

Furniture, Decorative Pieces, Drapery and Furniture Fabrics

Every Article has been Greatly Reduced in Price.

ANTIQUES

In this class will be found Tapestries, Paintings, Furniture, Screens, Mirrors, Porcelains, Sheffield Silver and Fabrics of unquestionable authenticity. All of these have been personally selected by our own expert from the best foreign collections. No additional expense is required to put them in usable condition.

REPRODUCTIONS

Frankly sold as such. These would require the skill of the expert to distinguish them from the original, and, in many cases, would serve admirably as substitutes for the originals.

MODERN FURNITURE AND ODD PIECES

Commercialism is particularly objectionable when it invades the home and sets the seal of quantity production upon intimate, personal things. Our Furniture has been made and selected for individuality, being adaptations in design and finish of the best of the early masters, resulting in Furniture of distinction at the price of the commonplace.

All have been marked upon a strictly commercial basis. Sentimental appreciation has not been permitted to influence the price. In every instance the price has been made upon the basis of the actual cost of the article, regardless of how advantageously it may have been purchased.

A TYPICAL EXAMPLE

The "Johnathan Edwards" Bed Room Set

This set, constructed of selected mahogany, is an adaptation of the New England Bed Room Furniture of the late XVIII Century. In design it follows the graceful proportions and restrained lines of that period.

This set, composed of 9 pieces, for $750.00

Two Beds at $85 . . . $170 Mirror . . . $ 52
Night Table . . . 65 Dressing Table . . . 180
Chest of Drawers . . . 150 Centre Table . . . 65

Two Side Chairs at $34 . . . $68
Alternatives
Bed 4 ft. 6 in. . . $115 Chiffonade . . . $250

ORIENTAL RUGS

A shipment just received enables us to offer an unrivaled collection of Oriental Rugs, too numerous to describe in detail, in which is included

250 Oriental Hall Runners
Ranging from 12 ft. to 18 ft. in length. Prices from $70 to $125
Also
Small Oriental Rugs at $14, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 50

These rugs are all Persian and Anatolian of best qualities—there are no Caucasian Rugs.

During this sale the store will remain open until 5.30 P. M. Opens at 9 A. M.

1000 Big, QUALITY sheets in Each Roll

1000 Sheets 4 1/2 x 6 3/4 inches

CROSS CUT

1000 Sheets 4 1/2 x 6 3/4 inches

You may buy either of these two brands of Toilet Paper knowing that you are getting unusual QUALITY at a price that means exceptional ECONOMY.

FORT ORANGE

This is the big selling STANDARD, 1000-sheet roll, that is made from pure, new, clean, sanitary materials. High quality paper at a popular price.

CROSS CUT

A 1000-sheet roll of Toilet Paper—the paper is a little finer grade than Fort Orange and the sheet is a little larger.

A. P. W. PAPER CO. (MAKERS) ALBANY, N. Y.

This Week

Dealers are displaying these two brands in their windows and on their counters to remind you to buy and prove for yourself the

QUALITY and ECONOMY of either of these.

APW QUALITY PRODUCTS

B. Altman & Co.

New Importations of Knitted Sports Outerwear

have been received and are now displayed in the Department for Novelty Costume Accessories, on the Second Floor.

Among the many attractive novelties that will especially appeal to the fashionable woman are coat-and-frock and cape-and-frock costumes and coat-and-skirt suits, as well as individual frocks, coatees and capes, these being supplied, in many instances, with a modish hat en suite.

Also there are several colorful scarf-and-hat sets which have about them that air of Paris which may be indefinable but is always unmistakable.

Madison Avenue - Fifth Avenue

34th and 35th Streets New York